NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

PART A - ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A.1 - GENERAL PART

SECTION 1 - Statement of compliance with international accounting standards

The Financial statements of Banca Sistema S.p.A. as at 31 December 2016 were drawn up in accordance with International accounting standards - called IAS/IFRS - issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) and interpretations of the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee (IFRIC) and approved by the European Commission, as established by EU Regulation no. 1606 of 19 July 2002, adopted in Italy by Art. 1 of Legislative Decree no. 38 of 28 February 2005 and considering circular by the Bank of Italy no. 262 of 22 December 2005 as subsequently updated, regarding the forms and rules for drafting the Banks' Financial Statements.

The International Accounting Standards are applied by referring to the "Systematic Framework for preparing and presenting Financial Statements" (Framework).

If there is no standard or interpretation that applies specifically to a transaction, other event or circumstance, the Board of Directors uses its judgement to develop and apply an accounting standard in order to provide disclosure that:

- is relevant to the purposes of the financial decisions made by the users;
- reliable, so that the consolidated financial statements:
  - faithfully represent the capital/financial position, the income statement and the cash flows of the entity;
  - reflect the economic substance of the operations, other events and circumstances and not merely the legal form;
  - are neutral, i.e. devoid of prejudice;
  - are prudent;
  - are complete, with reference to all relevant aspects.

When exercising the aforementioned judgement, the Board of Directors of the Bank has made reference to and considered the applicability of the following sources, described in descending order of importance:

- the provisions and application guidelines contained in the Principles and Interpretations governing similar or related cases;
- the definitions, recognition criteria and measuring concepts for accounting for the assets, liabilities, revenues, and costs contained in the "Systematic framework".

When expressing an opinion, the Board of Directors may also consider the most recent provisions issued by other bodies that rule on accounting standards that use a "Systematic framework" similar in concept to developing accounting standards, other accounting literature and consolidated practices in the sector.

In accordance with Art. 5 of Legislative Decree no. 38 of 28 February 2005, if, in exceptional cases, the application of a provision imposed by the international accounting standards were incompatible with the true and correct representation of the capital or financial position or the profit and loss result, the provision would not apply. The justifications for any exceptions and their influence on the representation of the capital situation or financial position or profit and loss would be explained in the Notes to the financial statements. Any profits resulting from the exception would be recorded in a non-distributable reserve if they did not correspond to the recovered value in the financial statements. However, no exceptions to the IAS/IFRS were applied. The Financial Statements were subject to an audit by KPMG S.p.A..

SECTION 2 - General accounting policies

The Financial Statements are drawn up with clarity and are a true and faithful representation of the capital and financial position and the profit and loss for the year, the changes in shareholders' equity and the cash flows and comprise the balance sheet, the income statement, statement of comprehensive income, the statement of changes in equity, the cash flow statement, and the notes to the financial statements.

The Financial Statements are accompanied by the Director's Report on Management Performance.

If the information required by the international accounting principles and provisions contained in Circular no. 262 of 22 December 2005 and/or the subsequent updates issued by the Bank of Italy is not sufficient to give a true and correct representation that is relevant, reliable, comparable, and understandable, the explanatory notes provide the additional information required.

The general principles that underlie the drafting of the financial statements are set out below:

- the measurements are made considering that the company will continue as an ongoing business guaranteed by the financial support of the Shareholders;
- costs and revenue are accounted for on an accrual basis:
- to ensure the comparability of the data and information in the financial statements and the notes to the financial statements, the methods of representation and classification are kept constant over time unless they are changed to present the data more appropriately;
- each significant class of similar items is separately indicated in the balance sheet and income statement; items with dissimilar natures or uses are presented separately unless they are considered to be irrelevant;
- accounts that have no associated sums for the financial year or for the previous financial year are not indicated in the balance sheet or the income statement;
- if an element of the assets or liabilities comes under several items in the balance sheet, the notes to the financial statements make reference to the other items under which it is recorded if it is necessary for a better understanding of the financial statements;
- the items are not offset against one another unless it is expressly requested or allowed by an international ac-counting standard or an interpretation or the provisions of the aforementioned Circular no. 262 of 22 December 2005 as amended by the Bank of Italy;

- the financial statements are drafted by favouring substance over form and in accordance with the principle of rel-evance and significance of the information:
- comparative data for the previous financial year are presented for each account of the balance sheet and income statement; if the accounts are not comparable to those of the previous year, they are adapted and the non-comparability and adjustment/or impossibility thereof are indicated and commented on in the notes to the financial statements;
- the layout recommended by the Bank of Italy was used with reference to the information reported in the notes to the financial statements; they were not presented if they were not applicable to the Bank's business.

Within the scope of drawing up the financial statements in accordance with the IAS/IFRS, company management must make assessments, estimates and assumptions that influence the amounts of the assets, liabilities, costs and returns for the period. As provided in IAS 8, it is essential to make reasonable estimates when preparing the financial statements. The estimates that had to be made when drawing up these financial statements do not adversely affect their reliability; these estimates are regularly revised and are mainly based on previous experience. Any changes resulting from the review of the accounting estimates are reported in the period in which the revision is made if it relates only to that period. If the revision relates to either current or future periods, the change is reported in the period in which the revision is made and in the relevant future periods.

Pursuant to the provisions of Art. 5 of Legislative Decree no. 38 of 28 February 2005, the financial statements use the Euro as the currency for accounting purposes. Amounts presented in the financial statements are in thousands of Euro. Note the following in reference to regulatory developments in the IAS/IFRS international accounting standards.

SECTION 3 - Subsequent events

With regard to IAS 10, after 31 December 2016, the balance-sheet date, and up to 8 March 2017, the date that the financial statements were presented to the Board of Directors, no events occurred that would require any adjustments to the figures in the financial statements. On 1 March 2017, the branch located in Milan, via Vespri Siciliani, dedicated exclusively to collateralised loans, was opened. This activity was also recently started at the Bank's branch already in the city of Pisa.

SECTION 4 - Other aspects

Starting this financial year, the Bank revised its accounting treatment of late payment interest in accordance with IFRS as a result of the experience gained and the systematic implementation of out-of-court and judicial recovery measures for past-due receivables, and transitioned from cash accounting to accrual accounting only for receivables subject to legal action. The accounting was done based on the expected percentage of recovery which is at least 65% for debtors of the national health system, while for other PA debtors it is estimated to be at least 15%.

There are no significant aspects to note.

Changes to IAS 39

On 24 July 2014, the IASB completed its review process of IAS 39 by issuing IFRS 9 "Financial Instruments", adoption of which is mandatory for financial years beginning on or after 1 January 2018. At the beginning of 2017, the Bank launched a project aimed at determining the qualitative and quantitative impacts on the financial statements, as well as to identify and subsequently implement the changes necessary at the organisational, internal regulation and application system levels.

IFRS 9, which will replace IAS 39 "Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement", introduces significant changes, particularly with regard to the following:

- Classification and measurement of financial instruments
- Impairment
- Hedge Accounting

With regard to classification and measurement activities, the Bank will perform a detailed review of the cash flow characteristics of instruments measured at amortised cost under IAS 39 to identify any assets that, not going beyond a SPPI (Solely Payments of Principal and Interest) review, should be valued at fair value according to IFRS 9.

From an initial assessment, the most significant and pervasive impacts are expected from implementing the new impairment model which transitions from the current "incurred loss" based model, to one based on the concept of "expected loss".

A.2 - INFORMATION ON THE MAIN ITEMS OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Financial assets held for trading

Classification criteria

This item classifies the financial instruments on a cash basis held for trading<sup>1</sup>. A financial asset or liability is classified as held-for-trading (so-called Fair Value Through Profit or Loss - FVPL), and recorded under 20 "Held-for-trading financial assets" or 40 "Held-for-trading financial liabilities", if it is:

- purchased or held mainly to sell it or repurchase it in the short term;
- part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments managed on a single basis and where there is evidence of a recent and effective strategy aimed at obtaining profit in the short term;
- a derivative (apart from designated derivatives that are effective hedging instruments - see paragraph below on this issue).

Recognition criteria

Initial recognition of the held-for-trading financial assets occurs: I) at the settlement date for debt securities, capital and shares in UCITS; II) at the subscription date for derivative contracts.

The initial recognition of held-for-trading financial assets is at fair value, not including any transaction costs or income that are directly recognised on the income statement even though directly attributable to the instrument. The initial fair value of a financial instrument is usually the cost incurred for its acquisition.

Measurement and recognition criteria for income components

Following initial recognition, held-for-trading financial assets are measured at fair value, and any changes are recorded in the income statement.

For more details on the methods of calculating the fair value please refer to paragraph 17.3 below "Criteria for calculating the fair value of financial instruments".

Gains and losses on disposal or redemption and unrealised gains or losses resulting from changes in the fair value of held-for-trading financial assets are recognised on the income statement under "profit (loss) on trading".

Derecognition criteria

Held-for-trading financial assets are derecognised when the contractual rights on the cash flows deriving from the assets are lost, or in the case of a transfer, when the same entails the substantial transfer of all risks and benefits related to the assets.

2. Financial assets available for sale

Classification criteria

This category includes the non-derivative financial assets not classified otherwise as "Held-for-trading financial assets", "Held-to-maturity financial assets", or "Financial assets measured at fair value" or "Receivables".

The investments "available for sale" are financial assets that are intended to be retained for an indefinite period and that may be sold for reasons of liquidity, changes in interest rates, exchange rates or market prices.

A financial instrument is designated to the category in question when it is initially recorded or following any reclassifications in accordance with paragraphs 50 to 54 of IAS 39, as amended by Regulation (EC) no. 1004/2008 of the European Commission of 15 October 2008.

Recognition criteria

Initial recognition of available-for-sale financial assets is at the date of settlement, based on their fair value including the costs/income of the transaction directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial instrument. Costs/income having the previously mentioned characteristics that will be repaid by the debtor or that can be considered as standard internal administrative costs are excluded.

The initial fair value of a financial instrument is usually the cost incurred for its acquisition.

&lt;sup>1</sup> The positions held for trading purposes are those that are meant to be subsequently transferred in the short term and/or held in order to provide short-term benefits in the difference between the purchase and the sales price or other price changes or interest rate changes. The positions are intended to mean own positions or positions resulting from Customer services or trading support (Market making).

Measurement and recognition criteria for income components

Following initial recognition, available-for-sale financial assets are measured at their fair value with any gains or losses resulting from a change in the fair value compared to the amortised cost, recorded in a specific equity reserve recorded in the statement of comprehensive income up until said financial asset is derecognised or an impairment loss is recorded.

For more details on the methods of calculating the fair value please refer to paragraph 17.3 below "Criteria for calculating the fair value of financial instruments".

With reference to the valuation reserves relating to debt securities issued by the Central Authorities of countries belonging to the European Union, the Bank of Italy issued an order on 18 May 2010 recognising - for the purposes of calculating the regulatory capital (prudential filters) - the option of fully neutralising the capital gains and losses reported in the previously mentioned reserves after 31 December 2009. The Bank availed of that option starting from calculation of the regulatory capital.

Impairment testing is performed in accordance with paragraphs 58 et seq. of IAS 39 at every year-end. As regards equity securities listed on an active market, a significant or prolonged reduction of the fair value below the purchase cost is also evidence of impairment. If the fair value is reduced in cost by more than 50% or in duration by more than 18 months, the impairment is considered to be permanent. If, however, the decrease in the fair value of the cost of the instrument is lower than or equal to 50% but above 20%, or in duration by not more than 18 months but not less than 9, the Bank will analyse other income and market indicators. If the results of said analysis are such as to shed doubt on the possibility of recovering the amount originally invested, permanent impairment will be recognised. The amount transferred to the income statement is therefore equal to the difference between the book value (acquisition cost net of any losses due to impairment already reported in the income statement) and the current fair value. The amount of any impairment is recorded under the income statement item "net value adjustments/write- backs due to impairment of availablefor-sale financial assets". This amount also includes the reversal to the income statement of any profits/losses from the measurement previously recorded in the specific shareholders' equity reserve. If, in a subsequent period, the fair value of the financial instrument increases and this increase may be objectively related to an event that occurred after the impairment was reported in the income statement, the impairment must be derecognised by reporting the write-back under the same income statement item where monetary elements (for example, debt securities) and shareholders' equity if they relate to non-monetary items are reported (for example, equity securities). The write-back in the income statement may not, in any event, exceed the amortised cost that the instrument would have had in the absence of the previous adjustments. Interest income on the aforesaid financial assets is calculated by applying effective interest rate criteria with recognition of the result under the profit and loss item "interest income and similar income".

The profits and losses deriving from the disposal or reimbursement of the aforementioned financial assets are reported in the income statement item "Profits (losses) from disposal or repurchase of: available- for-sale financial assets" and include the possible reversal to the income statement of the profits/losses previously recorded in the specific shareholders' equity reserve.

Derecognition criteria

Available-for-sale financial assets are derecognised when the contractual rights on the cash flows deriving from the assets expire, or in the case of a transfer, when the same entails the substantial transfer of all risks and benefits related to the financial assets.

3. Financial assets held to maturity

Held-to-maturity financial assets (HTM) are non-derivative financial assets, with fixed or calculable payments and fixed maturities for which there is the objective intention and capacity to hold them to maturity. The following are not included:

 (a) those held for trading and those carried at fair value upon initial recognition recognised in the income statement (see paragraph 1: held-fortrading financial assets);

- (b) those designated as available for sale (see previous paragraph);
- (c) those that meet the definition of receivables and loans (see paragraph below).

When the financial statements or interim accounts are being drafted, the intention and capacity to hold financial assets to maturity is assessed.

These assets are reported under item "50 Held-to- maturity financial assets".

Recognition criteria

The held-to-maturity financial assets are initially reported when, and only when, the Bank becomes party to the contractual clauses of the instrument, or at the time of settlement, at a value equal to the cost, inclusive of any directly attributable costs and income. If the reporting of this asset in this category derives from reclassification from the "Available-for-sale financial assets" or - only in rare circumstances if the asset is no longer owned for the purpose of selling or repurchasing it in the short term - by the "Held-for-trading financial assets", the fair value of the asset, recorded at the time of transfer, is taken as the new measurement of the amortised cost of this asset.

Measurement criteria

The held-to-maturity financial assets are valued at the amortised cost, using the effective interest rate method (for a definition of this, please refer to the paragraph below "Receivables and Loans"). The result from applying this method is charged to the income statement in item "10 Interest income and similar income". Impairment testing of the assets is performed when drafting the financial statements or the interim reports. If there is impairment, the difference between the book value of the asset and the current value of the estimated future cash flows, discounted at the original effective interest rate, is charged to the income statement under "130 Net value adjustments/write-backs due to impairment of c) held-tomaturity financial assets". The same income statement item also reports any write-backs recorded if the reasons behind the previous value adjustments are no longer valid. The fair value of the held-to-maturity financial assets is determined for information purposes or to ensure effective hedging against exchange risk or credit risk (in relation to the risk subject to hedging).

Derecognition criteria

Held-to-maturity financial assets are derecognised when the contractual rights on the cash flows deriving from the assets are expired, or in the case of a transfer, when the same entails the substantial transfer of all risks and benefits related to the assets.

The result of the disposal of the held-to-maturity financial assets is charged to the income statement under "100 Profits (losses) from the disposal or repurchase of c) held-to-maturity financial assets".

4. Receivables

4.1. Due from banks

Classification criteria

This category includes cash financial assets held at banks that provide for fixed or calculable payments and are not listed on a market (current accounts, guarantee deposits, debt securities etc.). It also includes amounts due from Central Banks that are not demand deposits (which are recorded under "Cash and cash equivalents").

Please refer to paragraph 4.2 below "Loans to customers" for information regarding reporting, measurement, derecognition and recognition of the income items of the receivables.

4.2. Loans to customers

Classification criteria

Loans to customers include unstructured cash financial assets for customers that have fixed or calculable payments and that are not quoted on an active market. Most loans to customers comprise on demand advances to customers as part of the factoring of non-recourse receivables acquired with respect to the Public Administration, where there are no contractual clauses that would prevent them from being registered.

In accordance with the general principle of the precedence of economic substance over legal form, a company may cancel a financial asset from its financial statements only if it is through a transfer of the risks and benefits related to the transferred instrument.

IAS 39 provides that a company can only cancel a financial asset from its financial statements if and only if:

- a) the financial asset is transferred and, with this, essentially all the risks and contractual rights to the cash flows de-riving from the asset expire;
- the benefits attached to ownership of the asset are no longer valid.

The following conditions must be checked on an alternative basis in order for the financial asset to be transferred:

- a) the company has transferred the rights to receive cash flows from the financial asset;
- b) the company has maintained the right to receive the cash flows from the financial asset, but has assumed the ob-ligation to pay them to one or more beneficiaries as part of an agreement in which the following conditions are met:
  - the company is under no obligation to pay predetermined sums to any beneficiary apart from what is received from the original financial asset:
  - the company may not sell or pledge the financial asset:
  - the company is under an obligation to transfer any financial flow that it collects, on behalf of any beneficiaries, without delay. Any investment of the financial flows for a period between cashing them and payment must take place only with financial assets that are equivalent to cash and therefore with no right to any interest that has matured on said invested sums.

In order to verify the transfer of a financial asset that results in the cancellation of the assignor from the financial statements, for each transfer the assigning company must assess the extent of any risks and benefits connected to the financial asset it holds.

In order to evaluate the actual transfer of the risks and benefits, the exposure of the assigning company must be compared with the variability of the current value or the financial flows generated by the financial asset transferred, before and after the assignment.

The assigning company essentially maintains all the risks and benefits when its exposure to the "variability" of the current value of the net future financial flows does not change significantly following its transfer. However, there is a transfer when the exposure to this "variability" is no longer significant.

In summary, there can be three situations and each has specific effects, namely:

- a) if the company transfers almost all the risks and benefits of ownership of the financial asset, it must 'write-off' the financial asset and record the rights or obligations deriving from the assignment separately as assets or liabilities;
- if the company maintains almost all the risks and benefits of ownership of the financial asset, it must continue to recognise the financial asset;
- c) if the company does not transfer or maintain almost all the risks and benefits of ownership of the financial asset, it must evaluate the elements of control of the financial asset, and:
  - if it does not have control, it must write off the financial asset and separately recognise the individual assets/liabilities resulting from the rights/obligations of the assignment;
  - if it maintains control, it must continue to recognise the financial asset up to the limit of its investment commitment.

In order to check control, the discriminating factor to consider is the beneficiary's capacity to unilaterally assign the financial asset without any restrictions by the assigning company. If the beneficiary of a financial asset transfer can sell the entire financial asset to a non-related third party and can do it unilaterally without having to impose any further limitations on the transfer, the assigning company no longer controls the financial asset. In all other cases, it maintains control over the financial asset.

The most frequently used forms of assigning a financial instrument may have profoundly different accounting effects:

- in the case of non-recourse transactions (with no guarantee restrictions), the assigned assets may be deleted from the assigning company's financial statements;
- in the case of a with-recourse assignment, in the majority of cases, the risk connected to the transferred asset re-mains with the seller and, therefore the assignment does not meet the requirements to have the instrument sold written off on an accounting basis.

Recognition criteria

Initial recognition of a receivable is at the date of settlement based on its fair value including the costs/ income of the transaction directly attributable to the acquisition of the receivable.

Costs/income having the previously mentioned characteristics that will be repaid by the debtor or that can be considered as standard internal administrative costs are excluded.

The initial fair value of a financial instrument is usually equivalent to the amount granted or the cost incurred by the acquisition.

Measurement and recognition criteria for income components

Following initial recognition, loans to customers are stated at amortised cost, equal to the initial recognition value reduced/increased by capital repayments, by any value adjustments/write-backs and the amortisation - calculated based on the effective interest rate - of the difference between the amount provided and that repayable at maturity, usually the cost/income directly attributed to the individual loan.

The effective interest rate is the rate that discounts the flow of future payments estimated for the expected duration of the loan, in order to obtain the exact net book value at the time of initial recognition, which includes both the directly attributable transaction costs/income and all of the fees paid or received between the parties. This accounting method, based on financial logic, enables the economic effect of costs/income to be spread over the expected residual life of the receivable. The estimation of the flows and of the contractual duration of the loan considers all contractual clauses that may influence the amounts and the maturities (such as, for example, early extinction and various exercisable options), without considering, on the other hand, any losses expected on the loan.

Furthermore, an analysis is always performed to identify problem loans that show objective evidence of possible impairment at year-end. The methods used to calculate the analytical and generic write-downs applied to the credit portfolio are described below. In particular, exposures classified as impaired loans are analysed in order to quantify the potential impairment of the individual loan. With reference to the non-performing loans from the factoring portfolio with the Public Administration, the Bank makes an analytical write-down for the Municipalities who are registered as having "financial difficulty" status in accordance with Legislative Decree 267/00.

If appropriate write-downs were not made at the pricing stage, the Bank makes an analytical write-down on the outstanding value of the loan net of the rediscount, which has not yet fallen due. The percentage write-down, without the Bank loss figures, was defined in accordance with the market benchmark.

On the other hand, with respect to the credit positions from the factoring portfolio where the debtor counterparty is a private company, the Bank does not record bad positions and therefore only applies a collective writedown to those positions.

For all the factoring portfolio credit positions that are classified as performing and past due (Public Administration and private), the Bank makes a prudential write-down, defining a segment of the portfolio through specific clusters defined when acquiring the portfolios and for which it makes in-depth assessments at the pricing stage, and therefore on those types of receivables and also exposures to Central Administration offices (for example Ministries). On the other hand, with respect to the exposures related to ordinary factoring receivables, a generic write-down was applied by applying a fixed percentage to the factoring portfolio. With reference to the impaired loans forming part of the SME portfolio, the Bank writes-down the entire portion of the loan that is not backed by the Guarantee Fund issued by Mediocredito Centrale.

With respect to performing SME loans, the Bank defined a generic write-down in accordance with the percentage of impaired income observed on its portfolio. With respect to the pension and salary-backed loans, since no non-performing positions have been recorded, the Bank wrote-down the receivables based on market benchmarks.

Derecognition criteria

Loans are derecognised from the financial statements when they are deemed totally unrecoverable or if transferred, when this entails the substantial transfer of all loan-related risks and benefits.

5. Financial assets at fair value through profit and loss

At the date of the financial statements, the company did not hold any "Financial assets measured at fair value".

6. Hedging transactions

At the date of the financial statements, the Company had not made any "Hedging transactions".

7. Equity investments

Classification criteria

This category includes investments in subsidiaries, associates, and joint ventures by Banca Sistema.

Recognition criteria

Equity investments are recorded in the financial statements at purchase cost.

Measurement criteria

If there is evidence that the value of an equity investment may be impaired, the recoverable value of said equity investment is estimated by considering the present value of future cash flows that the investment could generate, including the final disposal value of the investment and/ or other measurement elements.

The amount of any impairment, calculated based on the difference between the book value of the investment and its recoverable value is recorded in the income statement under "profits (losses) from equity investments".

If the reasons for impairment are removed following an event occurring after recognition of the impairment, write-backs are made to the income statement under the same item as above to the extent of the previous adjustment.

Derecognition criteria

Equity investments are derecognised from the financial statements when the contractual rights to cash flows deriving from the investment are lost or when the investment is transferred, with the substantial transfer of all related risks and benefits.

Recognition criteria of income components

In accordance with IAS 18, dividends are recorded when the right of the shareholder to receive payment has been established and, therefore, after the date of resolution of the Shareholders' Meeting of the investee company.

8. Property and equipment

Classification criteria

This item includes assets for permanent use, held to generate income, to be leased, or for administrative purposes, such as land, functional property, property investments, technical installations, furniture and fittings and equipment of any nature and works of art. They also include costs for improvements to third party assets if they can be separated from the assets in question. If the above costs do not display functional or usefulness-related autonomy, but future economic benefits are expected from them, they are recorded under "other assets" and are depreciated over the shorter period between that of expected usefulness of the improvements in question and the residual duration of the lease. Depreciation is recognised under Other operating charges/income.

Property, plant and equipment also include payments on account for the purchase and restructuring of assets not yet part of the production process and therefore not yet subject to depreciation.

"Functional" property, plant and equipment are represented by assets held for the provision of services or for administrative purposes, while property held for "investment purposes" are those held to collect lease rentals and/or held for capital appreciation.

Recognition criteria

Property and equipment are initially recorded at cost, including all costs directly attributable to installation of the asset.

Extraordinary maintenance costs and costs for improvements leading to actual improvement of the asset, or an increase in the future benefits generated by the asset, are attributed to the reference assets, and are depreciated based on their residual useful life.

Measurement and recognition criteria for income components

Following initial recognition, "functional" property, plant and equipment are recorded at cost, less accumulated depreciation, and any write-downs for impairment losses, in line with the "cost model" illustrated in paragraph 30 of IAS 16. More specifically, property, plant and equipment are systematically depreciated each year based on their estimated useful life, using the straight-line basis method apart from:

- land, regardless of whether this was purchased separately or was incorporated into the value of the building, which, in-sofar as it has an indefinite useful life, is not depreciated;
- works of art, which are not depreciated as their useful life cannot be estimated and their value typically appreciates over time;
- property investments which are recorded at fair value in accordance with IAS 40.

For assets acquired during the financial year, depreciation is calculated on a daily basis from the date of entry into use of the asset. For assets transferred and/ or disposed of during the financial year, depreciation is calculated on a daily basis until the date of transfer and/or disposal.

At the end of each year, if there is any evidence that property, plant or equipment that is not held for investment purposes may have suffered an impairment loss, a comparison is made between its book value and its recoverable amount, equal to the higher between the fair value, net of any costs to sell, and the related value in use of the asset, intended as the actual value of future cash flows expected from the asset.

Any adjustments are recognised to the income statement under "net value adjustments on property, plant and equipment".

If the reasons that led to recognition of the impairment loss cease to apply, a write-back is recorded that may not exceed the value that the asset would have had, net of depreciation calculated in the absence of previous impairment losses.

For property, plant and equipment held "for investment purposes", which come within the area of application of the IAS 40, the measurement is made at the market value determined using independent surveys and the changes in fair value are recorded in the income statement under the item "net result of the fair value measurement of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets".

Derecognition criteria

Property, plant and equipment is derecognised from the balance sheet upon disposal thereof or when the asset is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefit is expected from its disposal.

9. Intangible assets

Classification criteria

This item includes non-monetary assets without physical substance that satisfy the following requirements:

- they can be identified;
- they can be monitored;
- they generate future economic benefits.

In the absence of one of the above characteristics, the expense of acquiring or generating the asset internally is recorded as a cost in the year in which it was incurred. Intangible assets include software to be used over several years and other identifiable assets generated by legal or contractual rights.

Goodwill is also included under this item, representing the positive difference between the acquisition cost and fair value of the assets and liabilities acquired as part of a business combination. Specifically, an intangible asset is recognised as goodwill when the positive difference between the fair value of equity components acquired and the acquisition cost represents the future capacity of the equity investment to generate profit (goodwill). If this difference proves negative (badwill), or if the goodwill offers no justification of the capacity to generate future profit from the equity elements acquired, it is recognised directly to the income statement.

Measurement criteria

The value of the intangible assets is systematically amortised from the time of their input into the production process.

With reference to the goodwill, on an annual basis (or at the time of an impairment loss), an assessment test is carried out on the adequacy of its book value. For this purpose, the Unit generating the financial flows to which the goodwill is attributed, is identified. The amount of any impairment is determined by the difference between the goodwill book value and its recovery value, if lower. This recovery value is equal to the higher amount between the fair value of the Unit that generates the financial flows, net of any sale cost, and its value in use. As stated above, any consequent value adjustments are recognised in the income statement.

Derecognition criteria

An intangible asset is derecognised from the statement of financial position at the time of its disposal and if there are no expected future economic benefits.

10. Non-current assets held for sale

At the date of the financial statements, the company did not hold any non-current assets held for sale.

11. Current and deferred taxes

Income taxes for the period, calculated in compliance with prevailing tax regulations, are recorded in the income statement based on the accrual criteria, in accordance with the recognition in the financial statements of the costs and of the revenues that generated them, apart from those referring to the items directly debited or credited to the shareholders' equity, where the recognition of the tax is made on the shareholders' equity in order to be consistent. Allocations for income taxes are calculated based on a prudential estimate of the current, prepaid, and deferred tax burden. More specifically, prepaid and deferred taxes are determined on the basis of the temporary differences between the book value of assets and liabilities and their value for taxation purposes. Deferred tax assets are recorded in the financial statements to the extent that it is probable that they will be recovered based on the Company's ability to continue to generate positive taxable income. Prepaid and deferred taxes are accounted for at equity level with open balances and without offsetting entries, recording the former under "Tax assets" and the latter under "Tax liabilities". With respect to current taxes, at the level of individual taxes, the prepayments made are offset with the relevant tax charge, indicating the net imbalance under "current tax assets" or the "current tax liabilities" depending on whether it is positive or negative.

12. Provisions for risks and charges

In line with the requirements of IAS 37, provisions for risks and charges cover liabilities, the amount or timing of which is uncertain, related to current obligations (legal or implicit), owing to a past event for which it is likely that financial resources will be used to fulfil the obligation, on condition that an estimate of the amount required to fulfil said obligation can be made at the financial statements balance sheet date. Where the temporary deferral in sustaining the charge is significant, and therefore the extent of the discounting will be significant, provisions are discounted at current market rates.

The provisions are reviewed at the reference date of the annual financial statements and the interim financial statements and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate.

These are recorded under their own items in the income statement in accordance with a cost classification approach based on the "nature" of the cost. Provisions related to future charges for employed personnel relating to the bonus system appear under "personnel costs". The provisions that refer to risks and charges of a fiscal nature are reported as "income taxes", whereas the provisions connected to the risk of potential losses not directly chargeable to specific items in the income statement recorded as "net allocations for risks and charges".

13. Payables and securities issued

Classification criteria

Amounts due to banks and due to customers include the various forms of inter-banking or client funding deposits (current accounts, demand and bonded deposits, loans, repurchasing agreements, etc.) whereas securities issued include all the liabilities issued (bond loans not classified as "financial liabilities measured at fair value", etc.).

All the financial instruments issued by the Bank are expressed in the financial statements net of any amounts repurchased and include those that have matured as at the balance sheet date but have not yet been reimbursed.

Recognition criteria

These financial liabilities are initially recognised when the deposits are received or when the debt securities are issued. Initial recognition is based on the fair value of the liabilities, increased by the costs/income of the transaction directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial instrument.

Costs/income having the previously mentioned characteristics that will be repaid by the creditor or that can be considered as standard internal administrative costs are excluded. The initial fair value of a financial liability is usually equivalent to the amount cashed.

Any derivative contracts included in said financial liabilities, which are subject to the assumptions of IAS 32 and 39, are broken down and measured separately.

Measurement criteria

After the initial recognition, the previously mentioned financial liabilities are valued at amortised cost with the effective interest rate method.

Derecognition criteria

The above financial liabilities are derecognised from the balance sheet at maturity or when they are extinguished. They are derecognised also in the event of repurchase, even temporary, of the previously-issued securities. Any difference between the book value of the extinguished liability and the amount paid is recorded in the income statement, under "profit (loss) from disposal or repurchase of: financial liabilities". If the Bank, subsequent to the repurchase, re-places its own securities on the market, said transaction is considered a new issue and the liability is recorded at the new placement price.

14. Financial liabilities held for trading

At the date of the financial statements, the Company did not have any "Held-for-trading financial liabilities".

15. Financial liabilities at fair value through profit and loss

At the date of the financial statements, the Company did not have any "financial liabilities carried at fair value".

16. Currency transactions

The currency assets and liabilities include, in addition to those explicitly designated in a currency other than the Euro, those that include financial indexing clauses associated with the Euro exchange rate with a designated currency or a designated bundle of currencies. In accordance with the conversion methods to be used, the assets and liabilities in currencies are subdivided between monetary and non-monetary items.

Recognition criteria

Foreign currency transactions are recorded, at the time of initial recognition, in Euro, applying the spot exchange rates in force on the date of the transaction to the amount in foreign currency.

Measurement criteria

At each reporting date:

- the monetary elements in foreign currencies are converted using the exchange rate in force at the end of the financial year;
- the non-monetary components valued at historical cost in foreign currency are converted at the exchange rate in effect on the date of the transaction;
- the non-monetary components carried at fair value in a foreign currency are converted at the exchange rate in effect on the date the fair value is determined.

The differences in the exchange rates that result from the settlement of monetary elements or the conversion of monetary elements at rates that differ from the initial conversion rates, or the conversion rates on the date of the previous financial statements, are reported in the income statement for the financial year in which they occur in the "Net profit from trading" or if they relate to financial assets/liabilities for which the fair value option is used in accordance with IAS 39, in the "Net result of the financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value".

When a profit or a loss relative to a non-monetary component is recorded in shareholders' equity, the exchange difference relative to said component is also recognised in shareholders' equity in the year in which it occurs. On the other hand, if the profits or losses of a non-monetary element are reported in the income statement, the difference in the exchange rate is also reported in the income statement in the year in which they occur as stated above.

17. Other information

17.1. Employee termination indemnities

According to the IFRIC, the Employee termination indemnities can be equated with a post-employmentbenefit of the "defined-benefit plan type") which, based on IAS 19, is to be calculated via actuarial methods. Consequentially, the end of the year measurement of the posting in question is made based on the accrued benefits method using the unit credit criteria anticipated (Projected Unit Credit Method). This method calls for the projection of the future disbursements based on historical, statistical, and probabilistic analysis, as well as in virtue of the adoption of appropriate demographic fundamentals. It allows the severance package accrued at a certain date to be calculated actuarially, distributing the expense for all the years of estimated remaining permanence of the existing workers, and no longer as an expense to be paid if the company ceases its activity on the reporting date.

The actuarial profits and losses, defined as the difference between the book value of the liability and the present value of the obligation at years' end, are recognized in shareholders' equity.

An independent actuary assesses the severance package in compliance with method indicated above.

17.2. Repurchase agreements

The "repurchase agreements" that oblige the party selling the subject matter of the transaction (for example securities) to repurchase them in the future and the "securities lending" transactions where the guarantee is represented by cash, are considered equivalent to swap operations and, therefore, the amounts received and disbursed appear in the financial statements as payables and receivables. In particular, the previously mentioned transactions "repurchase agreements" and "securities lending" transactions are recorded in the financial statements as payables for the spot value received, while that for investments are recorded as receivables for the spot price paid. Such transactions do not result in changes in the securities portfolio. Consistently, the cost of funds and the income from the investments, consisting of accrued dividends on the securities and from the difference between the spot price and the forward price thereof, are recorded for the accrual period under the interest items in the income statement.

17.3. Criteria for determining the fair value of financial instruments

Fair value is defined as "the price that would be collected for the sale of an asset or also that would be paid for the transfer of a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants", at a specific measurement date, excluding forced-type transactions. Underlying the definition of fair value in fact is the presumption that the company is in operation, and that it has no intention or need to liquidate, significantly reduce the volume of its assets, or engage in a transaction at unfavourable terms. In the case of financial instruments listed in active markets, the fair value is determined based on the deal pricing (official price or other equivalent price on the last stock market trading day of the financial year of reference) of the most advantageous market to which Bank has access. For this purpose, a financial instrument is considered to be listed in an active market if the quoted prices are readily and regularly available from a price list, trader, intermediary, industrial sector, agencies that determine prices, or regulatory authority and said prices represent actual market transactions that regularly take place in normal dealings. In the absence of an active market, the fair value is determined using measurement techniques generally accepted in financial practice, aimed at establishing what price the financial instrument would have had, on the valuation date, in a free exchange between knowledgeable and willing parties. Such measurement techniques require, in the hierarchical order in which they are presented, the use:

- of the most recent NAV (Net Asset Value) published by the management investment company for the harmonized funds (UCITS - Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities), the Hedge Funds and the SICAVs;
- of the recent transaction prices observable in the markets;
- of the price indications deducible from infoproviders (e.g., Bloomberg, Reuters);
- 4. of the fair value obtained from measurement models (for example, Discounting Cash Flow Analysis, Option Pric-ing Models) that estimate all the possible factors that influence the fair value of a financial instrument (cost of mon-ey, credit exposure, liquidity risk, volatility, foreign exchange rates, prepayment rates, etc.) based on data observ-able in the market, also with regards to similar instruments on the measurement date. If market data cannot be ref-erenced for one or more risk factors, metrics internally determined on a historical-statistical basis are used. The measurement models are subject to periodic review to guarantee complete and constant reliability;
- 5. of the price indications provided by the counterparty issuer adjusted if necessary to take into account the counter-party and/or liquidity risk (for example, the price resolved on by the Board of Directors and/or the Shareholders' meeting for the shares of unlisted cooperative bank, the unit value communicated by the management investment company for the closed-end funds reserved to institutional investors or for other types of UCIs other than those cit-ed in paragraph 1, the

- redemption value calculated in compliance with the issue regulation for the insurance contracts);
- 6. for the equity-linked instruments, where the measurement techniques pursuant to the previous paragraphs are not applicable: I) the value resulting from independent surveys if available; II) the value corresponding to the portion of shareholders' equity held resulting from the company's most recent financial statements approved; III) the cost, adjusted if necessary to take into account significant reductions in value, where the fair value cannot be reliably determined.

Based on the foregoing considerations and in compliance with the IFRS, the Bank classifies the measurements at fair value based on a hierarchy of levels that reflects the significance of the inputs used in the measurements. The following levels are noted:

- Level 1 prices (without adjustments) reported on an active market: the measurements of the financial instruments quoted on an active market based on quotations that can be understood from the market;
- Level 2 the valuation is not based on prices of the same financial instrument subject to valuation, but on prices or credit spreads obtained from the official prices of essentially similar instruments in terms of risk factors, by using a given calculation method (pricing model).

The use of this approach translates to the search for transactions present on active markets, relating to instruments that, in terms of risk factors, are comparable with the instrument subject to valuation. The calculation methods (pricing models) used in the comparable approach make it possible to reproduce the prices of financial instruments quoted on active markets (model calibration) without including discretional parameters - i.e. parameters whose value cannot be obtained from the prices of financial instruments present on active markets or cannot be fixed at levels as such to replicate prices present on active markets - which may influence the final valuation price in a decisive manner.

■ Level 3 - inputs that are not based on observable market data: the measurements of financial instruments not quoted on an active market, based on measurement techniques that use significant inputs that are not observable on the market, involving the adoption of estimates and assumptions by management (prices supplied by the issuing counterpar-ty, taken from independent surveys, prices corresponding to the fraction of the shareholders' equity held in the company or obtained using measurement models that do not use market data to estimate significant factors that condition the fair value of the financial instrument). This level includes measurements of financial instruments at cost price.

17.4 Business combinations

A business combination involves the combination of separate companies or business activities in a single party who has to draft the financial statements.

A business combination may give rise to a participatory relation between the parent company (acquirer) and the subsidiary (acquired). A business combination may also provide for the acquisition of the net assets of another entity, including any goodwill, or the acquisition of another entity's capital (mergers and contributions).

Based on the provisions of IFRS 3, business combinations must be accounted for by applying the acquisition method, which comprises the following phases:

- identification of the acquirer;
- determination of the cost of the business combination;
- allocation, on the acquisition date, of the business combination cost in terms of the assets acquired and the liabilities, and potential liabilities taken on.

More specifically, the cost of a business combination must be determined as the total fair value as at the date of exchange of the assets transferred, liabilities incurred or assumed, capital instruments issued by the acquirer in exchange for control of the acquired company and all costs directly attributable to the business combination.

The acquisition date is the date on which control of the acquired company is actually obtained. If the acquisition is completed through a single transfer, the date of the transfer will be the acquisition date. If the business combination is carried out through several transfers:

- the cost of the combination is the overall cost of the individual operations
- the exchange date is the date of each exchange operation (namely the date on which each investment is recorded in the acquiring company's financial statements), whereas the acquisition date is the one on which control is obtained over the acquired company.

The cost of a business combination is assigned by recording the assets, liabilities and potential liabilities that are identifiable in the acquired company, at the relevant fair values at the date of acquisition. The assets, liabilities and potential liabilities that can be identified in the acquired company are recorded separately on the acquisition date only if, on this date, they meet the following criteria:

- if an asset is not an intangible asset, it is probable that any future connected economic benefits will flow to the acquiring company and it is possible to assess its fair value reliably;
- if a liability is not a potential liability, it is probable that, in order to extinguish the obligation, investment in resources will be required to produce economic benefits and it is possible to assess the fair value reliably;
- in the case of an intangible asset or a potential liability, the relevant fair value may be assessed reliably.

The positive difference between the cost of the business combination and the acquiring body's profit sharing at the fair value net of the assets, liabilities and potential identifiable liabilities, must be accounted for as goodwill. After the initial recognition, the goodwill acquired in a business combination is measured at the relevant cost and is submitted to an impairment test at least once a year. If the difference is negative, a new measurement is made. This negative difference, if confirmed, is recorded immediately as revenue in the income statement.

17.5 Derecognition

This is the removal from the balance sheet of a financial asset or liability that had previously been recognised.

Before assessing the existence of the conditions for removing financial assets from the financial statements, it has to be checked whether these conditions must be applied to these assets as a whole or only in part in accordance with IAS 39.

The cancellation rules are applied to the part of the financial assets to be transferred only if at least one of the following requirements have been met:

- the part comprises only cash flows that relate to a financial asset (or a group of assets) that are specifically identified (for example, only the portion of interest relating to the asset);
- the part comprises the cash flows in accordance with a precisely identified percentage of their total (for example, 90% of all cash flows deriving from the asset);
- the part includes a precisely identified portion of specifically identified cash flows (for example, 90% of cash flows only of the portion relating to the asset).

If the aforementioned criteria are not met, the cancellation standards must apply to the financial asset (or group of financial assets) as a whole.

The conditions for the complete cancellation of a financial asset are the extinction of the contractual rights, such as their natural maturity, or the transfer to another counterparty of cash flows deriving from this asset.

Payment rights are considered to be transferred if contractual rights are held to receive the financial flows from the asset, but an obligation is assumed to pay these flows to one or more entities and all three of the following conditions are satisfied (pass-through agreement):

- The Bank is under no obligation to pay out amounts uncollected from the original assets;
- the sale and offering as guarantees of the original asset is prohibited, except if it guarantees the obligation to pay finan-cial flows;
- the Bank is obliged to transfer immediately all the financial flows that it receives and has no right to invest them, except for investments in liquid assets during the short period between the collection and payment dates, on condition that the interest matured over the period is paid.

In addition, the elimination of a financial asset is subject to a check being carried out that all the risks and benefits deriving from holding the rights have effectively been transferred (true sale). If there is a transfer of substantially all the risks and benefits, the transferred asset (or group of assets) will be cancelled and the rights and obligations relating to the transfer will be recorded as assets or liabilities.

On the other hand, if the risks and benefits are maintained, the transferred asset (or group of activities) must continue to be recognised. In that case, a liability corresponding to the amount received as consideration for the transfer, and subsequently, all the income accrued on the assets as well as all the expenses accrued on the liabilities must be recorded.

The main operations that do not allow a financial asset to be cancelled fully are the receivable securitisation operations, the repurchase agreements and the security lending transactions based on the aforementioned rules. In the case of repurchase agreements and security lending transactions, the assets that are the object of the transactions are not removed from the financial statements since the terms of the transactions require all the associated risks and benefits to be maintained.

17.6 Introduction of the "bilateral CVA" to the valuation of derivatives

IFRS 13 - applicable from 1 January 2013 - establishes the need to consider, in the fair value of derivative contracts, the risk of non-performance (risk of one of the two parties in the contract not fulfilling their obligations) both at the time of initial recognition and in subsequent valuations. This risk includes:

- changes in the entity's creditworthiness, for which, in determining the fair value of derivatives, the risk of non-fulfilment of obligations must also be considered;
- changes in the counterparty creditworthiness

The fair value of a derivative instrument can be broken down into various components that include the effect of the various underlying risk factors.

 The collateralised component of the fair value is calculated as if the contract was subject to a perfect collateral agreement, as such to reduce the counterparty's risk to a negligible level. In practice, said situation can be brought closer with the CSA (Credit Support Annex) which makes provision for daily margining, zero threshold and minimum transfer amount and overnight flat rate. This component of fair value includes the market risk (e.g. with respect to underlying assets, volatility, etc.) and the risk of financing implicit in the CSA (overnight rate loan, OIS discounting method).

- 2. The component, known as the Bilateral Credit Value Adjustment (bCVA), takes into consideration the possibility of the counterparties (Counterparty and Investor) going bankrupt and is in turn given by two addends, called the Credit Value Adjustment (CVA) and Debit Value Adjustment (DVA), that represent the following scenarios:
  - the CVA (negative) takes into consideration the scenarios in which the Counterparty (Customer) goes bankrupt before the Investor (Bank), and the latter presents a positive exposure to the Counterparty. In these scenarios, the Investor suffers a loss equal to the cost of replacement of said derivative;
  - the DVA (positive) takes into consideration the scenarios in which the Investor goes bankrupt before the Counterparty, and the former presents a negative exposure to the Counterparty. In these scenarios, the Investor benefits from a profit equal to the cost of replacement of said derivative.

The calculation of the latter component of fair value is performed by taking into consideration the presence of netting arrangements and collateral agreements allowing the counterparty's risk to be mitigated. In the first case, the presence of the netting arrangement determines the performance of the calculation of the bilateral CVA on a portfolio including all transactions subject to netting in place with that same Counterparty. Consequently, in the presence of netting arrangements, both the CVA component and the DVA component decrease in absolute terms, in order to mitigate the counterparty risk they cause. In the case of CSA contracts (collateral) with daily margining, reduced thresholds and Minimum Transfer Amounts, counterparty risk can be considered negligible. Therefore, the calculation of the bCVA only considers the transactions not covered by CSA. By contrast, in the case of a CSA with thresholds and Minimum Transfer Amounts that are not negligible, the bCVA is calculated based on the materiality approach. The bCVA calculation depends on the creditworthiness of the Investor and Counterparty, available via recourse to various sources. The Risk Management Department, in collaboration with the Administrative and Fiscal management, defined a rule allowing the creditworthiness data to be selected as a function of its availability.

The rule provides as follows:

- in the case of counterparties with a CDS spread quoted on the market, the bCVA is calculated by considering the risk-neutral probability of default (i.e. estimated based on the prices of bonds and not based on historical data) quoted on the market and relating to both the Counterparty and the Investor, measured based on the quoted CDS spread credit curve;
- in the case of Large Corporate counterparties without a CDS quoted on the market with turnover greater than the criti-cal threshold, the bCVA is calculated by considering the risk-neutral probability of default of a counterparty that is associated to the contract counterparty (comparable approach). Creditworthiness is measured:
- for Project Finance counterparties using the CDS spread credit curve (Industrial comparable);
- for other counterparties using the CDS spread credit curve (comparable for the counterparty);
- in the case of illiquid counterparties not included in the previous categories, the bCVA is calculated by considering the probability of default of the counterparty and of the Group, determined using the credit curve obtained from the probability of default matrices.

The application of the standard did not have any significant effects on the Bank, since its portfolio is almost entirely composed of short-term assets.

a. Internally generated intangible assets	-	-	-	-
b. Other assets	-	-	-	-
TOTAL	35	1,786	86	1,786

The other intangible assets are recorded at purchase cost including also accessory costs, and are systematically amortized over a period of 5 years. The item mainly refers to software.

The goodwill originates from the merger by incorporation of the subsidiary Solvi S.r.l. which took place in 2013. Subsequent to the merger, the former Solvi's assets were fully integrated in those of the Bank with the purpose of pursuing efficiencies both in terms of expected synergies with the other businesses and in terms of overall operating costs. Since the activities once performed by Solvi Srl, now fully integrated, and inseparable from the rest of Banca Sistema's operations, the Bank is not currently able to distinguish the expected cash flows of the merged entity from those of the Bank itself.

In the specific case, therefore, the goodwill of  $\in$  1.8 million recorded in the financial statements is an asset that cannot be separated from the rest of the bank.

In particular, the impairment test pursuant to IAS 36 requires that the recoverable value of goodwill be greater than its book value in the financial statements; in detail, as provided for by paragraph 18 of IAS 36, the recoverable amount has been defined as "the higher of the fair value of an asset or of a cash-generating unit having deducted sales costs and its value in use".

Specifically, the impairment test was conducted referring to the "Value in use" based on the flows indicated in the 2016 Budget, in the Bank's business plan in relation to the 2015-2018 period and to a forecast of expected cash flows for the 2019-2020 period, conservatively assuming an estimated growth rate of 1.2% on an annual basis.

The main parameters used for estimation purposes were as follows:

Risk Free Rate + country risk premium	1.5%
Equity Risk Premium	5.5%
Beta	1.4%
Cost of equity	8.2%
Growth rate "g"	2.0%

The estimated value in use obtained based on the parameters used and the growth assumptions is considerably greater than shareholders' equity as at 31 December 2016. Furthermore, considering that the use value was determined via recourse to estimates and assumptions that may introduce elements of uncertainty, sensitivity analysis - as required by the accounting standards of reference - were performed with the purpose of verifying the variations of the results previously obtained as a function of the basic assumptions and parameters.

In particular, the quantitative exercise was completed by a stress test of the parameters relative to at the Bank's growth rate and the discounting rate of the expected cash flows (quantified in an isolated or simultaneous movement of 50bps), that confirmed the absence of impairment indicators, confirming a value in use once again significantly greater than the book value of goodwill in the financial statements.

In virtue of all that above, no qualitative trigger events that suggest a need for impairment having been identified, the Division deem it appropriate to not writedown the book value of goodwill posted in the financial statements as at 31 December 2016.

PART E - INFORMATION CONCERNING RISKS AND RELATIVE HEDGING POLICIES

SECTION 1 - RISKS

1.1 Credit risk

QUALITATIVE INFORMATION

In order to manage the significant risks to which it is or could be exposed, Banca Sistema has set up a risk management system that reflects the characteristics, size and complexity of its operations.

In particular, this system hinges on four core principles:

- suitable supervision by relevant company bodies and functions;
- satisfactory risk management policies and procedures;
- suitable methods and instruments to identify monitor and manage risks, with suitable measuring techniques; thorough internal controls and independent reviews.

In order to reinforce its ability to manage corporate risks, the Bank established the Risk Management Committee and ALM - extra-board committee, which supports the CEO in defining strategies, risk policies and profitability targets.

The Risk Management Committee continuously monitors the relevant risks and any new or potential risks arising from changes in the working environment or forwardlooking operations.

With reference to the new regulation in matters of the operation of the internal control system, in accordance with the principle of collaboration between the control functions, the Internal Control and Risk Management Committee (a committee within a committee) was assigned the role of coordinating all the control functions. The methods used to measure, assess and aggregate risks are approved by the Board of Directors, based on proposals from the Risk Division, subject to approval by the Risk Management Committee. In order to measure 'Pillar 1 risks', the Bank has adopted standard methods to calculate the capital requirements for Prudential Regulatory purposes.

In order to evaluate non-measurable 'Pillar 2 risks', the Bank adopts - where possible - the methods stipulated under Supervisory regulations or those established by trade associations. If there are no such indications, standard market practices by operators working at a level of complexity and with operations comparable to those of the Bank are assessed.

With reference to the new provisions in matters of regulatory supervision (15th update of circular 263 - New regulations for the prudential supervision of banks), a series of obligations on the management and on risk control, including the Risk Appetite Framework (RAF) and the regulatory instructions defined by the Basel Committee were introduced. The Bank associated the strategic objectives to the RAF. The key ratios and the respective levels were assessed and the any revisions needed were made while defining the company's annual objectives.

In particular, the RAF was designed with key objectives to verify that over time, the Plan grows and develops observing capital strength and liquidity obligations, implementing monitoring and alert mechanisms and related series of actions that allow prompt intervention in case of significant discrepancies.

The structure of the RAF is based on specific indicators so-called Key Risk Indicators (KRI) which measure the Bank's solvency in the following areas:

- Share capital
- Liquidity;
- Quality of the credit portfolio;
- Profitability;
- Other specific risks the Bank is exposed to.

Target levels, consistent with the plan's defined values, the level I thresholds, defined as "warning" thresholds, that trigger discussion at Risks Management Committee level and subsequent communication to the Board of Directors and the level II thresholds, that required direct discussion in the Board of Director's Meeting to determine the actions to be taken are associated with the various key ratios.

The I and II level thresholds are defined with scenarios of potential stress with respect to the plan's objectives and on dimensions having a clear impact for Banca Sistema. Starting from 1 January 2014, the Bank used an integrated reference framework both to identify its own risk appetite and for the internal process entailing the determination of the capital adequacy (Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process - ICAAP).

Furthermore, the Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process allows the Bank to comply with the public disclosure obligation, with appropriate concerning its capital adequacy, to risk exposure and to the general characteristics of the management, control, and monitoring systems of the risks themselves, (the so-called "third pillar"). As concerns this matter, the Bank fulfils the public disclosure requirements with the issuing of Circular no. 285 of 17 December 2013 "Prudential supervisory provisions for banks" in which the Bank of Italy transposed the Directive 2013/36/EU (CRD IV) of 26 June 2013. This regulation, together with that contained in (EU) Regulations no. 575/2013 (the socalled "CRR") incorporates the standards defined by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision (the so-called "Basel III").

1. General aspects

The prudential supervisory provisions, provide for the banks the possibility to determine the weighting coefficients for the calculation of the capital requirement with respect to credit exposure within the standardised approach based on the creditworthiness ratings issued by External Credit Assessment Institutions (ECAI) of the Bank of Italy. Banca Sistema, as at 31 December 2016, uses the appraisal issued by the ECAI "DBRS", for the exposures to Central Authorities, and Public Sector Institutions and Entities, whereas, as concerns the valuations relative to the regulatory business segment, it uses the agency "Fitch Ratings Ltd".

The identification of a reference ECAI does not represent in any way, in subject matter or in purposes, an assessment on the merit of the opinions made by the ECAI or a support of the methodologies used, for which the External Credit Assessment Institutions remain solely responsible.

The assessments issued by the rating agencies do not exhaust the creditworthiness assessment process that the Group performs with regard to its customers; rather they represent a further contribution to define the information framework regarding the credit quality of the customer.

The satisfactory appraisal of the borrower's creditworthiness, with regards to capital and income, and of the correct remuneration of the risk, are made based on documentation acquired by the Bank; the information acquired from the Bank of Italy Central Credit Bureau and from other infoproviders, both when decisions are made during the subsequent monitoring, complete the informational framework.

For Banca Sistema, Credit risk is one of the Group's main components of overall exposure; the composition of the credit portfolio predominantly consists of National Institutions of the Public Administration, such local health authorities / Hospitals, Territorial entities (Regions, Provinces and Municipalities) and Ministries that, by definition, entail a very limited default risk.

The main components of Banca Sistema Group's operations that generate credit risk are:

- Factoring activities (with and without recourse);
- Loans to SMEs (with guarantee from the National Guarantee Fund – FNG);
- Acquisition without recourse of salary-/pensionbacked loans;

During the third quarter of 2016, the Bank preventively assessed the impact of ECAI DBRS downgrading Italy (from A- to BBB) after 13 January 2017.

According to the analyses carried out and as subsequently proven, the main consequence of the deterioration of Italy's creditworthiness was a reduction in the collateral to guarantee the refinancing operations, which in any case did not have any particular effect on the Bank's liquidity level.

2. Credit Risk Management Policies

2.1 Organizational aspects

Banca Sistema's organizational model envisages that the preliminary credit assessment procedure be performed carefully in accordance with the decision-making powers reserved to the decision-making bodies.

In order to maintain high credit quality in its loan portfolio, the Bank, as the Parent Company, deemed it expedient to concentrate all phases relative to the assumption and control of risk control upon its internal structures, thus obtaining, through the specialization of resources and the segregation of functions at each decision-making level, a degree of standardisation in the granting of credit and robust monitoring of the individual positions.

As mentioned above, the Bank's "Underwriting Office". performs the analyses for the granting of credit. The Office performs assessments focused on the separate analysis and extension of credit to counterparties (assignor, debtor) and on this takes place in all normal phases of the credit process, summarized as follows:

- "analysis and assessment": the gathering of quantitative and qualitative information from the counterparties under ex-amination the system allows an opinion of the subject's reliability and is helpful in quantifying the proposed line of cred-it;
- "deliberation and formalisation": once the proposal has been deliberated upon, the contractual documentation to be signed by the counterparty is prepared;
- "monitoring the relationship": the continuous control of the counterparties benefiting from the credit allows any anoma-lies to be identified and consequentially prompt intervention.

Credit risk is mainly generated by a direct result of the definitive acquisition of credit from the customer company versus the insolvency of the assigned debtor. In particular, the credit risk generated by the factoring portfolio essentially consists of Institutions Public Administration. In reference to each credit acquired, Banca Sistema performs, via the Collection Division, activities described further on in order to verify the credit status, and whether or not there are any impediments to the payment of the invoices to be assigned, and date scheduled for the payment thereof.

Specifically, the structure endeavours:

- to verify that each credit is certain, liquid and collectable, i.e. there are not disputes or complaints and that there is no further request for clarification or information with regards to said credit and should there be any, that said requests are be promptly satisfied;
- to verify that the debtor has received and recorded in its system the relative deed of assignment, i.e. is aware that the credit has been assigned to Banca Sistema;
- to verify that the debtor, where provided for by the assignment agreement and by the purchase offer, has formalised its acceptance of the assignment of the relative credit or has not rejected it within the terms of the law;
- to verify that the debtor received all the documentation required to proceed with the payment (copy of invoice, orders, bills, transportation documents, etc.) and that had it recorded the corresponding debt in its system (existence of the credit);
- to verify c/o the local and/or regional institutions:
   the existence of specific allocations, available cash;
- to verify the payment status of the credits via meetings c/o the Public Administrations and/or debtor agencies, tele-phone contacts, emails, etc. in order to facilitate the ascertainment and the removal of any obstacles that could delay and/or impede payment.

With reference to other business: regarding the Loans to SME product, credit risk is associated with the inability of the two counterparties involved in the loan to honour their financial commitments i.e.:

- the debtor (SME);
- the Guarantee Fund (the Government of Italy).

The type of loan follows the usual operating process concerning the preliminary assessment, the disbursement and the monitoring of the credit.

In particular, two separate due-diligence procedures are performed on this type of loan (one by the Bank and the other by Medio Credito Centrale, the so-called MCC) on the borrower of funds.

The debtor's insolvency risk is mitigated by direct (i.e. that referring to an individual exposure), explicit, unconditional and irrevocable guarantee by the Guarantee Fund, the sole Manager of which is "MCC".

As regards, instead, the acquisition of salary-/pension-backed loan portfolios, the credit risk is associated with the inability of the three counterparties involved in the loan process to honour their financial commitments, i.e.:

- the Employer (ATC)
- the financial assigning company
- the Insurance Company

The insolvency risk of Employer/ debtor is generated in the following cases:

- default of Employer (for ex: bankruptcy);
- the debtor losing his job (for ex: resignation/ dismissal of the debtor) or reduction of remuneration (for ex: redundancy fund);
- death of the debtor.

The cases of risk described above are mitigated by the obligatory subscription of a life and employment insurance policies. In detail:

- the employment risk policy fully covers any insolvency deriving from the reduction of the debtor's remuneration whereas, for default by the Employer, the coverage is limited to the portion of the residual debt in excess of the termination indemnity accrued;
- the life risk policy anticipates that the insurance company will intervene to cover the portion of the residual debt expiring subsequent to death; any instalments previously not settled remain instead incumbent upon by the heirs.

The Bank is subject to the insolvency risk of the Insurance Company in the event that a claim is made upon a loan. In order to mitigate this risk, the Bank requires that the outstanding credit portfolio be insured by several insurance companies observing following terms:

- an individual company with no rating or with rating less than Investment Grade may insure a maximum of 30% of the cases;
- an individual company of Investment Grade may insure a maximum of the 40% of the cases.

The Employer insolvency risk is generated in the event that a case is retroceded back to the Employee, which must therefore, repay the credit to the Bank. The Framework Agreement initialled with the employer anticipates the possibility of retroceding the credit in the cases of fraud on the part of the Employer/debtor or in any case, of non-observance, on the part of the employer, of the assumptive criteria anticipated by the framework agreement.

As concerns the financial instruments held on its own account, the Bank performs security purchase transactions regarding Italian government debt, which are allocated, for prudential supervision purposes, in the banking book.

With reference to aforementioned operations the Bank identified and selected specific IT applications to manage and monitor the treasury limits on the securities portfolio and to set up the second level controls.

The Treasury Division, operating within the limits allowed by the Board of Directors, conducts said operations.

Also, with reference to the new regulatory framework, specifically to Circular no. 285 and to the respective Supervisory Bulletin no. 12 of December 2013, paragraph II.6 in matters of own funds, the Bank adhered to the extension of the prudential treatment of the profits and of the losses not realized, relative to the exposure to the Central Authorities classified in the "available-for-sale financial assets" category for the entire period provided for by Art. 467(2), last paragraph of the CCR.

2.2 Management, measurement and control systems

The Bank sets effective Credit Risk Management as a strategic objective via instruments and process integrated to ensure a correct credit management in all phases (processing, disbursement, monitoring and management, intervening on loans with credit quality problems).

By involving the various Central structures of Banca Sistema and through the specialization of the resources and the separation of functions at each decision-making level, it seeks to guarantee a high degree of efficiency and standardisation in overseeing credit risk and monitoring the individual positions.

With specific reference to the monitoring of credit activities, the Bank, via the collection meetings, assesses and inspects the credit portfolio based upon the guidelines defined within the "collection policy". The framework relative to the above credit risk ex-post management sets the objective of promptly identifying any anomalies and/ or discontinuities and evaluating the persistence of risk profiles, in-line with the strategic indications provided.

The purchase activities of government securities classified among available-for-sale financial assets continued during 2015 in relation to the credit risk associated with the bond securities portfolios. Said financial assets, which in virtue of their classification fall within the perimeter of the "banking book" although outside of the bank's traditional investment activity, are sources of credit risk. This risk consists in the issuer's inability to redeem, upon maturity, all or part of the bonds subscribed.

The securities held by Banca Sistema consist exclusively of Italian government securities, with an average duration of less than a year for the overall portfolio.

Furthermore, the formation of a portfolio of readily liquidatable assets is also expedient for anticipating the trend of the prudential regulations in relation to the governance and management of liquidity risk.

As concerns counterparty risk, Banca Sistema's operations call for extremely prudent reverse repurchase and repurchase agreements being that Italian government securities are the predominant underlying instrument and the Compensation and Guarantee Fund is the predominant counterparty.

2.3 Credit Risk mitigation techniques

It should be noted that, as of the balance-sheet date, the Bank did not implement any hedging of the credit portfolio. As concerns credit and counterparty risk on the AFS portfolio and on the repurchase agreements, risk mitigation is pursued by a careful management of the operational autonomy, establishing limits in terms of both responsibility and the consistency and composition of the portfolio by type of securities.

2.4. Non-performing financial assets

The Banca Sistema Group defines its credit quality policy as a function of the provisions in the Bank of Italy Circular 272 (Accounts Matrix), the principle definitions of which are provided on the following pages.

The Supervisory Provisions for Banks assign to intermediaries specific obligations concerning the monitoring and classification of loans: "The obligations of the operating units in the monitoring phase of the loan granted must be deducible from the internal regulation. In particular, intervention terms and methods must be set in case of irregularity. The measurement, management and classification criteria for irregular loans, as well as the related responsible units, must be set with resolution of the board of directors, which indicates the methods of coordination among these criteria and the methods required by the supervisory reports.

The board of directors must be regularly informed on the performance of the irregular loans and the related recovery procedures."

According to the definitions in the above-mentioned Bank of Italy Circular, financial assets that lie within the categories of the bad loans, unlikely to pay or non-performing past due and/or overdrawn exposures are defined as non-performing.

Exposures whose anomalous situation is attributable to factors relevant to the so-called "country risk" are the "non-performing" financial assets.

In particular, the following definitions apply:

Bad loans

On- and off-balance sheet exposures (loans, securities, derivatives, etc.) owed by a party in state of insolvency (even if not judicially ascertained) or in broadly similar situations, regardless of any loss forecast formulated by the Group (cf. Art. 5 bankruptcy law).

The definition therefore applies regardless of the existence of any collateral (real or private) provided as protection against the exposures.

This class also includes:

- the exposure to local institutions (municipalities and provinces) in state of financial difficulty for the portion subject to the applicable liquidation procedure
- the credits purchased from third parties having bad parties as the primary obligator, regardless of the accounting portfolio in which it is allocated.

Unlikely to pay

Classification into this category is first of all the result of the Banks opinion regarding the improbability that, without recourse to actions such as the enforcement of the guarantee, the debtor will fulfil all of his credit obligations (principal and/or interest). This assessment is made independently of whether any sums (or instalments) are past due and not paid. It is therefore unnecessary to wait for explicit symptoms of irregularity (non-repayment) if there are elements that entail a situation of default risk on the part of the debtor (e.g. a crisis in the industrial sector in which the debtor operates). The set of on- and off-balance sheet exposures to the same debtor in above conditions is named "unlikely to pay", save that the conditions for classifying the debtor under bad loans do not exist. The exposures to retail parties may be classified in unlikely to pay category at the level of the individual transaction, provided that the Bank evaluate has assessed that the conditions for classifying the set of exposures to the same debtor in that category do not exist.

Non-performing past due and/or overdrawn exposures

These are understood to be the on-balance sheet exposures at book value and "off-balance sheet" exposures (loans, securities, derivatives, etc.), other than those classified as bad loans, unlikely to pay, that, on the reference date of the report, are past due or have been overdrawn by more than 90 days.

In order to verify the continuity of the overdue exposure in connection with the factoring operation, the following is specified:

- for "with recourse transactions", the overdue exposure, other than that associated with the assignment of future credits, is determined only if both of the following conditions exist:
  - the advance is of an amount equal to or greater than amount of the credit coming due;
  - at least one invoice has not been honoured (past due) by more than 90 days and the set of the past due invoices (including those by less than 90 days) exceeds 5% of the total receivables.
- for "without recourse transactions", for each assigned debtor, individual invoice that with the greatest delay must be referred.

In the calculation of the capital requirement for the credit and counterparty risk, Banca Sistema uses the standardised approach. This envisages that the exposures that lie within the portfolios relative to "Central Authorities and Central Banks", "Territorial entities", and "Public sector institutions" and "Businesses", must apply the notion of overdue and/or overdrawn exposures at the level of the debtor party. The regulation also requires the overall exposure to a debtor to be recognised as past-due and/or overdrawn if, at the reference date of the report, the relevance threshold of 5% is exceeded.

Forborne exposures

Defined as forborne exposures ("forbearance") are the exposures which lie in the categories of "Non-performing exposures with forbearance measures" and "Forborne performing exposures" as defined in the International Technical Standards (ITS).

A forbearance measure represents a concession towards a debtor which faces or is about to face difficulties in fulfilling its financial obligations ("financial difficulties"); a "concession" indicates one of the following actions:

- an amendment of the previous terms and conditions of a contract which the debtor is considered unable to fulfil due to its financial difficulties, that would not have been granted if the debtor was not in financial difficulty;
- a total or partial refinancing operation of a problem loan that would not have been granted if the debtor was not in financial difficulty. Art. 172 of ITS EBA sets some situations which, if occurring, lead in any case to the presence of forbearance measures, i.e. when:
  - an amended contract was classified as nonperforming and would have been so in the absence of the amendment;
  - the amendment made to the contract implies a partial or total cancellation of the debt;
  - the intermediary approves the use of forbearance clauses incorporated in the contract for a debtor classified as non-performing or that would have been so without resorting to these clauses;

 at the same time or close to the additional granting of credit by the intermediary, the debtor makes payments of capital or interest on another contract with the intermediary that was classified as nonperforming or that would have been classified so in the absence of the refinancing.

According to these criteria, forbearance is presumed to have taken place when:

- the amended contract has totally or partially expired for more than 30 days (without being classified as non-performing) at least once during the three months before the amendment or would have been so in the absence of the amendment;
- at the same time or close to the additional granting of credit by the intermediary, the debtor make payments of capital or interest on another contract with the intermediary that was totally or partially expired for more than 30 days (without being classified as non-performing) at least once during the three months before the amendment or would have been so in the absence of the amendment;
- the intermediary approves the use of forbearance clauses incorporated in the contract for a debtor which has expired for more than 30 days or that would have been so without resorting to these clauses.

A.2 CLASSIFICATION OF THE EXPOSURES BASED ON EXTERNAL AND INTERNAL RATING

A.2.1 Distribution of on- and off-balance sheet credit exposures by external rating class

The risk categories for the external rating indicated in this table refer to the creditworthiness classes of the debtors/ guarantors pursuant to prudential requirements (cf. Circular no. 285 of 2013 "Regulations for the supervision of banks" and subsequent updates).

The Bank uses the standardised approach in accordance with the risk mapping of the rating agencies:

 "DBRS Ratings Limited", for exposures to: central authorities and central banks; supervised brokers; public sector institutions; territorial entities.

SECTION 2 - MARKET RISK

As at 31 December 2016 the Bank is marginally exposed to the market risk due to the position in the trading portfolio of a security. The security is in Swedish krona and, as a consequence, it also generates an exchange rate risk which, due to the size, is also limited.

The existing limit system defines a careful and balanced management of the operational autonomy, establishing limits in terms of portfolio amounts and composition by type of security.

2.1 - Interest rate risk and price risk - regulatory trading portfolio

The trading risk moved exclusively following the trading of a security; due to the size of the investment the price risk is limited.

2.2 Interest rate risk and price risk - Regulatory Trading Portfolio

QUALITATIVE INFORMATION

A. General aspects, management procedures and methods of measuring the interest rate risk and the price risk

Interest rate risk is defined as the risk that the financial assets/liabilities record an increase /decrease in value because of movements contrary to the interest rate curve. The Bank identified the sources that generate interest rate risk with reference to the credit processes and to the Bank's collection.

The Bank calculates the exposure to interest rate risk on the banking book consistent as dictated by regulations currently in force, via the simplified regulatory approach (Cf. Circular no. 285/2006, Part One, Title III, Chapter 1, Schedule C); by using this method, the Bank is able to monitor the impact of the unexpected changes in market conditions on shareholders' equity, in this way identifying the relative mitigation measures to be implemented.

In greater detail, the processes of estimating the exposure to interest rate risk of the banking book anticipated by the simplified method is organized in the following phases:

- Determination of the relevant currencies.
- "Relevant currencies" are considered those that represent a portion of total assets, or also of the banking book liabilities, greater than 5%. For the purposes of the methodology for calculating exposure to interest rate risk, the positions denominated in "relevant currencies" are considered individually, while the position in "non-relevant currencies" are aggregated for the relative exchange value in Euro;
- Classification of the assets and liabilities in time brackets. 14 time brackets are defined. The fixed-rate assets and liabilities are classified based on their residual maturity, while those at floating-rates based on the interest rate renegotiation date. Specific classification rules are prescribed for specific assets and liabilities. With particular reference to the deposit and savings product "Si conto! Deposito", the Bank proceeded with the bucketization that takes into account the implied redemption option.
- Weighting the net exposures of each bracket.

The asset and liability positions are offset within each bucket, obtaining a net position. The net position by bracket is multiplied by the corresponding weighting factor obtained as the product between a hypothetical change of the rates and an approximation of the modified duration for the individual bracket;

- Sum of the weighted net exposures of the various brackets. The weighted exposures calculated for each bracket (sensitivity) are summed together. The net weighted exposure thus obtained approximates the change of the present value of the posting, denominated in a certain currency, in the event of the assumed rate shock;
- Aggregation in the various currencies. The absolute values of the exposures regarding the individual "relevant currencies" and the aggregate of the "non-relevant currencies" are summed together, obtaining a value that represents the change of the economic value of the Bank as a function of the assumed rate trends.

With reference to the Bank's financial assets, the main sources that generate interest rate risk are Loans to customers and the bond securities portfolio. As concerns the financial liabilities, relevant instead are the customer deposits and savings activities via current accounts, the savings account, and the collections on the interbank market.

Given the foregoing submissions, it should be noted that:

- the interest rates applied to the factoring customers are at a fixed rate and can also be modified unilaterally by the Bank, (in compliance with regulations in force and existing contracts);
- the average financial term of the bond securities portfolio is a less than one year;
- the salary/pension-backed loan that contains fixed rate contract is that with the greatest duration, however on the balance-sheet date this portfolio is contained and it is not deemed expedient to perform Interest rate hedging operations on said maturities;

- the REPO deposits c/o the Central bank are of short duration (the maximum maturity is equal to 3 months);
- The customers' deposits on the deposit account product are at a fixed rate for the entire duration of the constraint, which can be unilaterally renegotiated by the Bank in compliance with regulations in force and the existing contracts);
- the REPO and reverse REPO agreements are generally of short duration, without prejudice to different funding needs.

The Bank continuously monitors the main asset and liability postings subject to interest rate risk, furthermore, no hedging instruments were uses as at the balance sheet date.

B. Fair value hedges

The Bank did not perform any such transactions in 2016.

C. Cash flow hedging

A. General aspects, management processes and methods of measuring liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is represented by the possibility that the Bank is unable to maintain its payment commitments due to the inability to procure funds or to the inability to sell assets on the market to manage the financial imbalance. It is also represented by the inability to procure adequate new financial resources, in terms of amount and cost, with respect to operational need/advisability, that forces the Bank to slow or stop the development of activity, or to incur excessive funding costs to deal with their commitments, with significant negative impacts on the profitability of the its activity. The financial sources are represented by capital, by

The financial sources are represented by capital, by funding from customers, from the funds procured on the domestic and international interbank market as well from the Eurosystem.

To monitor the effects of the intervention strategies and to limit the liquidity risk, the Bank identified a specific section dedicated to monitoring the liquidity risk in the Risk Appetite Framework (RAF).

Furthermore, in order to promptly detect and manage any difficulties in procuring the funds necessary to conduct its activity, every year, Banca Sistema, consistent with the prudential supervisory provisions, updates its liquidity policy and Contingency Funding Plan, i.e. the set of specific intervention strategies in case of liquidity stress, anticipating the procedure to procure funds in the event of an emergency.

This set of strategies is of fundamental importance to attenuate liquidity risk.

The aforesaid policy defines, in terms of liquidity risk, the objectives, the processes and the intervention strategies in case of liquidity stress, the organizational structures responsible for implementing the interventions, the risk indicators, the relevant calculation method and warning thresholds, and procedures to procure the funding sources that can be used in case of emergency.

During the course of 2016, the Bank continued to adopt a particularly conservative financial policy meant to stabilize funding. This approach, allowed a balanced distribution between inflows from retail customer and corporate and institutional counterparties.

As of today, the financial resources available are satisfactory for the current and forward looking volumes of activity.

The Bank is continuously active ensuring a coherent development, always in-line with the composition of its financial resources.

In particular, Banca Sistema, prudentially, has constantly maintained a high quantity of securities and readily liquid assets to cover all of the deposits and savings products oriented towards the retail segment.

SECTION 4 - OPERATIONAL RISKS

QUALITATIVE INFORMATION

Operational risk is the risk of loss arising from inadequate or dysfunctioning internal processes, human resources or systems, or from external events. This type of risk includes - among other things - the ensuing losses from fraud, human errors, business disruption, unavailability of systems, breach of contract, and natural catastrophes. Operational risk, therefore, refers to other types of events that, under present conditions, would not be individually relevant if not analysed jointly and quantified for the entire risk category.

A. General aspects, management processes and methods of measuring the operational risk

In order to calculate the internal capital generated by the operational risk, the Bank adopts the Basic Indicator Approach, which provides for the application of a regulatory coefficient (equal to 15%) to the three-year average of the relevant indicator defined in Article 316 of EU Regulation no. 575/2013 of 26 June 2013.

The above-said indicator is given by the sum (with sign) of the following elements:

- interest income and similar revenue;
- interest expense and similar expense;
- income on shares, quotas and other variable/fixed yield securities;
- income for commissions/fees;
- expenses for commissions/fees;
- profit (loss) from financial transactions;
- other operating income.

Consistent with that anticipated by the relevant legislation, the indicator is calculated gross of provisions and operating expenses; also excluded from computation are:

- profits and losses on the sale of securities not included in the trading portfolio;
- income deriving from exceptional or irregular items;
- income deriving from insurance.

As of 2014, the Bank measured the operating risks events via a qualitative performance indicator (IROR - Internal Risk Operational Ratio) defined within the operational risk management and control process (ORF - Operational Risk Framework). This calculation method allows a score to be defined between 1 and 5, inclusive (where 1 indicates a low risk level and 5 indicates a high risk level) for each event that generates an operational risk.

The Bank assesses and measures the level of the identified risk, also in consideration also the controls and of the mitigating actions implemented. This method requires a first assessment of the possible associated risks in terms of probability and impact (so-called "Gross risk level") and a subsequent analysis of the existing controls (qualitative assessment on the effectiveness and efficiency of the controls) which could reduce the gross risk, on the basis of which specific risk levels (the so-called "Residual risk") are determined. Finally, the residual risks are mapped on a predefined scoring grid, useful for the subsequent calculation of IROR via appropriate aggregation of the scores defined for the individual operational procedure. Moreover, the Bank assesses the operational risk associated with the introduction of new products, activities, processes and relevant systems mitigating the onset of the operational risk via a preliminary evaluation of the risk profile.

The Bank places strong emphasis on possible ICT risks. The Information and Communication Technology (ICT) risk is the risk of incurring economic, reputational and market losses in relation to the use of information and communication technology. In the supplemented representation of the business risks, this type of risk is considered, in accordance with the specific aspects, among operational, reputational and strategic risks.

The Bank monitors the ICT risks based on the continuous information flows between the functions concerned defined in its IT security policies.

In order to conduct consistent and complete analysis with respect to the other activities conducted by the Bank's other control functions, the results in relation to the non-compliance risk audits conducted by the Compliance and Anti-money laundering function, are shared both within the Risk Management and Compliance Division, with the Internal Audit and Risk Management Committee, and with the CEO.

The Internal Audit Division also monitors the regular performance of bank operations and processes and evaluates the level of effectiveness and efficiency of the overall internal control system set up to deal with risk exposure.

Finally, as an additional protection against operational risk, the Bank has:

 insurance coverage on the operational risks deriving from actions of third parties or procured to third parties.

- In order to select the insurance coverage, the Bank initiated specific assessment activities, with the support of a primary market broker, to identify the best offers in terms of price/conditions proposed by several insurance undertakings;
- appropriate contractual riders to cover damages caused by of infrastructure and service suppliers;
- a business continuity plan;
- the assessment of each operational procedure in effect, in order to define the controls implemented to protect against risk activities.

The merger by incorporation of Beta reproduced the same effects presented in the consolidated financial statements prepared for statutory purposes.

Below is a summary of the main information concerning these transactions as required by IFRS 3:

IN ACCORDANCE WITH ARTICLE 153 OF ITALIAN LEGISLATIVE DECREE 58/1998 AND OF ARTICLE 2429 OF THE ITALIAN CIVIL CODE

Part one: introduction

Dear Shareholders of Banca Sistema S.p.A. ("Bank"),

With this report, we would like to inform you, pursuant to Article 153 of Italian Legislative Decree 58/1998 and to Article 2429 of the Italian Civil Code, in regard to the supervisory activities carried out during the calendar year (and, in order to provide complete information, in regard to the most important facts subsequent to the closing of the financial year), and we also formulate hypotheses concerning the financial statements and their approval.

This report has been jointly approved in time to be registered in accordance with the law.

During the year 2016, in accordance with the law and with the Articles of Association, we monitored: compliance with the requirements of law, regulations and the Articles of Association, and can confirm that such requirements have been duly met; compliance with the principles of sound and prudent management; the adequacy and operation of the company's organisation; the adequacy and operation of the administrative and accounting system; and the other acts and events provided for by law.

We have examined the draft financial statements of Banca Sistema S.p.A. at 31 December 2016 (the "Financial Statements") consisting of the Statement of Financial Position, the Income Statement, the Statement of Comprehensive Income, the Statement of Changes in Equity, the Cash Flow Statement, and the Notes to the Financial Statements, accompanied by the Directors' Report on Operations and complementary accounting statements, showing net income for the year of € 24,481,013.00.

The Board of Directors, having approved the draft financial statements on 8 March 2017, then provided us with the file in accordance with the law.

From the drafting of the report on the previous financial statements up until the present date, the Board of Statutory Auditors in office has held 9 meetings (including the meeting regarding the drafting of this report), and has attended the meetings of the governing bodies as you can see from the documents you have in the file prepared for today's meeting.

We shall provide you with detailed information about the work conducted, later on in this report.

Part two: the monitoring of compliance with the law and with the Articles of Association

In this section we shall report on the work carried out by this Board of Statutory Auditors in accordance with Article 2403 of the Italian Civil Code.

During the year, the Board of Statutory Auditors monitored compliance with the law, the memorandum of association and compliance with the principles of proper management. Its activities have been governed by the standards of conduct for the Board of Statutory Auditors recommended by the Italian Board of Chartered Accountants (Consiglio Nazionale dei Dottori Commercialisti e degli Esperti Contabili).

In addition to the previously mentioned meetings of the Board of Statutory Auditors, during 2016 the Board of Statutory Auditors participated in all Shareholders' Meetings, Board of Directors' meetings and internal committee meetings. We certify that these meetings were held in compliance with the Articles of Association, the law and regulatory provisions that govern their proceedings. Therefore, we can reasonably assure that the adopted resolutions complied with the law and the Articles of Association, were not manifestly imprudent, reckless or potentially in conflict of interest or conflicting with the resolutions approved by the Shareholders' Meetings or such as might compromise the solidity of corporate assets.

In carrying out its work during the Board of Statutory Auditors' meetings, the Board regularly met with the heads of the main functions of the Bank (Risk & Compliance, Legal & Corporate Affairs, Internal Control & Audit, Collection); it examined the documents provided, and it carried out its own analyses and assessments, as summarised in its minutes, which failed to reveal anything that might raise doubts as to compliance by the Bank with the law, the Articles of Association and the principles of sound and prudent management; it analysed the most important economic and financial transactions made, and verified that such were conducted in accordance with the law and with the memorandum of association, and that they were not obviously imprudent or risky and/or potentially in conflict of interest and/or conflicting with the resolutions approved by the Shareholders' Meetings and/or prejudicial to the operating performance, assets and financial position of the Bank. The Board of Statutory Auditors deems the transactions examined to be in keeping with the Bank's corporate interests.

The Board of Statutory Auditors acknowledges that the key information concerning the Bank's transactions with related parties has been provided during the Board of Directors' meetings and in the Financial Statements. In this regard, the Board of Statutory Auditors deems it appropriate to call the shareholders' attention to the interpretation of the paragraphs in the Directors' Report on Operations and Notes to the Financial Statements where those events are described.

Among the significant events that occurred in 2016, we highlight:

- The signing of the share purchase agreement, regarding the entire share capital of Beta Stepstone S.p.A., with Stepstone Financial Holdings in its capacity as assignor;
- The resolution adopted during the course of the Board of Directors' meeting of 29 July 2016, approving the planned merger by incorporation of Beta Stepstone S.p.A. into Banca Sistema S.p.A., and declaring said merger effective as of the beginning of 2017. Consequently, the extraordinary operation whereby the Bank was merged with the company Beta Stepstone, has been completed, although the separate financial statements of Banca Sistema S.p.A. for the year ended 31 December 2016 do not include the figures of Beta Stepstone S.p.A.;
- Within the context of the audits included in ordinary supervisory activity, the Bank of Italy's inspection conducted during the final quarter if 2016; the Board of Directors has still not received any details of the formal outcome of said inspection; the Board of Statutory Auditors has monitored the progress of work;
- The exchange of correspondence with the Bank of Italy (also on the part of the Board of Statutory Auditors) in regard to the clarification requested by the Regulatory

Part three: oversight of the Financial Statements

In this section we report on our control activities related to the preparation and drafting of the financial statements of Banca Sistema S.p.A. for the year ended 31 December 2016.

The Financial Statements have been drafted in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards (IAS/IFRS), as endorsed by the European Commission and implemented in Italy by Legislative Decree 38 of 28 February 2005, while also considering the instructions issued by the Bank of Italy with Circular 262 of 22 December 2005, as subsequently amended and supplemented.

In observance of the provisions of Italian Legislative Decree no. 39/2010, the person or entity responsible for the legal audit of the accounts must give an opinion on the financial statements as to whether they comply with the laws and regulations governing their preparation and whether they give a true and fair view of the financial position, cash flows and operating result for the year. In this regard, KPMG S.p.A. (hereinafter "KPMG") provided this Board of Statutory Auditors, pursuant to Article 2409-septies of the Italian Civil Code, with the relevant information, and today published its own audit report on the financial statements as at 31 December 2016, and said report does not contain any particular observations or qualifications in regard to such.

system related to the financial reporting process which would have to be brought to the attention of the Board of Statutory Auditors pursuant to Article 19 of Italian Legislative Decree no. 39 of 27 January 2010.

As far as concerns any further assignments bestowed upon the Independent Auditors and/or persons belonging to its "network", the only assignment carried out in addition to the mandatory legal audit was the voluntary quarterly audit carried out for supervisory purposes; the Board of Statutory Auditors has made no observations in regard to such, and more generally, no critical aspects have emerged concerning the independence of the Independent Auditors.

Summary and Conclusions

Dear Shareholders of Banca Sistema S.p.A.

Based on the foregoing considerations, and as far as the Board of Statutory Auditors is aware, and insofar as the regular controls carried out have revealed, there are no reasons for not approving the draft financial statements of Banca Sistema for the year ended 31 December 2016, as such have been drafted and submitted to you by the governing body, or for not approving the distribution of dividends.

Likewise, the Board of Statutory Auditors has taken note, and brings to your attention, both the contents of the report on the Company's financial statements drawn up by the Independent Auditors KPMG, issued pursuant to Articles 14 and 16 of Italian Legislative Decree 39/2010 – which shows that the financial statements give a true and fair view of the Bank's financial position, operating result and cash flows – and the result of the exchanges of information with the aforesaid Independent Auditors, who have confirmed their own independence, have not found material errors, believe that the books are properly kept, and confirm that there are no material aspects requiring a report to the governance bodies.

As a consequence of the foregoing, and without prejudice to all of the references to individual paragraphs of the Financial Statements made previously in this Report, the Board of Statutory Auditors invites you to decide in accordance with the proposal made by the Board of Directors of Banca Sistema S.p.A. reported below:

Report on the separate financial statements

We have audited the accompanying separate financial statements of Banca Sistema S.p.A. ### Independent auditors' responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these separate financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the International Standards on Auditing (ISA Italia) promulgated pursuant to article 11 of Legislative decree no. 39/10. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the separate financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the separate financial statements. The procedures selected depend on our judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the separate financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, we consider internal control relevant to the bank's preparation of separate financial statements that give a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the bank's internal controls. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the separate financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the separate financial statements give a true and fair view of the bank's financial position as at 31 December 2016 and of its financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards endorsed by the European Union and the Italian regulations implementing article 9 of Legislative decree no. 38/05 and article 43 of Legislative decree no. 136/15.

Report on other legal and regulatory requirements

Opinion on the consistency of the directors' report and certain information presented in the report on corporate governance and ownership structure with the separate financial statements
