

Independent Director

Maria Gaia Soana graduated in Finance and Risk Management from the University of Parma and obtained her qualification as a Certified Public Accountant in 2008.

She is a Full Professor of Financial Intermediaries Economics at the Department of Economics and Business Sciences at the University of Parma, where she serves as Chair of the Master's Degree program in Finance and Risk Management. She has practiced as a Certified Public Accountant and Statutory Auditor, providing consulting services in tax, accounting, and finance.

Currently, among other roles, she is a member of the Board of Directors (representing the University of Parma) of the University Consortium for Insurance Engineering (CINEAS).

She has carried out consulting and training activities for various companies on corporate finance, risk management, corporate governance, and corporate sustainability. She is the author of numerous publications and essays on topics such as operational and reputational risk in financial intermediaries, corporate banking, monetary policy and its effects on financial intermediaries, and financial and insurance literacy.

